

Dear Loyal Patient,

This summer marked several exciting changes for our dental practice. First, you may have noticed the name change on our office logo to Norman Dental. The change was necessary because I am excited to announce the addition of my son, Dr. Matthew Norman, to our group of exceptional professionals. Matt completed his training at the University of North Carolina School of Dentistry and joined the team at Norman Dental in June.

As my son, Matt witnessed the life-changing impact that excellent dentistry can have on the lives of my patients. Now, Matt is excited to be able to help people renew their healthy, brilliant smiles by joining our practice. His commitment to continuing education and knowledge of the newest technology and techniques, as well as his personal approach, make Dr. Matthew Norman a perfect fit at Norman Dental.

“Listening to, relating to, and forming a trusting relationship with each patient is most important,” said Dr. Matthew Norman. “I feel blessed to be joining a highly skilled dental team that promotes such outstanding patient care and I look forward to continuing the values they have established. I’m thrilled to be coming home to serve the great people of Greensboro and the surrounding area.”

With the addition of Matt and some new staffing, we are able to expand our hours to better meet your scheduling needs, including Friday appointments. Also, we have increased our capacity to allow you to refer your friends, family, and co-workers to our office.

Dr. Matthew Norman looks forward to meeting you! Call Norman Dental at 336-282-2120 to set up your next appointment, today!

Yours in good dental health,

Dr. Charles Norman and the Norman Dental Team
